Six acres of Lorne heaven

If you love Lorne but don't love the hustle and bustle of a busy Lorne summer, then this beautiful 6.35 acre allotment (app) maybe just the perfect solution to build your coastal escape on. The elevated position provides a gorgeous panoramic outlook of both the Great Otway National Park and ocean views to Aireys Inlet. Being north facing, any future dwelling would enjoy a beautiful sunny aspect which would be ideal for anyone considering an eco solution to their future coastal home. There is no through traffic in the street, so it is quite a complete hideaway. The other properties in the road are already established providing certainty with your planning. There is a shed and tanks already in place and very accessible from the entry to the property. Power is connected and the entry is at street level with the property falling away from the road to the north.
