Panoramic rural outlook

Any future dwelling on this substantial 1117sqm (app) vacant allotment will enjoy panoramic valley views. Designed correctly, the dwelling would almost feel like it is part of its own farm such is the open feel of the outlook. The allotment is very much a large blank canvas ready to be taken advantage of. There is a planning permit currently in place for a dwelling and those plans are available to view. The size of the land however, allows for flexibility in design and would be ideal for either a permanent or holiday house. The relatively level contour is ideal for those considering building a dwelling for their later years. Access to the town, river, beach and Great Otway National Park are all flat, so it is easy for walking or riding bikes. Very pretty and well priced considering the size and outlook available. All services except gas are either connected or available.
