Mid-Century Marvel held across 2 Titles

With its clean lines and understated sophistication, it is easy to see why the world is in love with Mid-century Modern architecture. This home is a rare, original example of this iconic style and a living piece of Anglesea beach culture history. It is understandable that work is needed to restore this home to its former glory, but the good news is that all of its character and authentic features remain intact. The expansive 1798 sqm (approx) allotment is held across two separate titles and development of the site is possible (STCA).

The floor plan is ideally suited to contemporary living, proving that great design is timeless. The extensive glazing throughout the home captures garden views from every angle bringing the outside in. With multiple separate living zones there is plenty of room to relax. Choose from the light filled and spacious lounge/dining area; or enjoy the cosy sitting room adjacent to the original 1950's kitchen complete with servery hatch. There is also a large rumpus room and sunroom too. Three bedrooms, including a master suite that boasts a stunning outlook,
