Substantial native allotment opposite National Park

Elevated north facing allotment which provides a perfect outlook to the Great Otway National Park opposite, this picturesque 1000sqm(app) native vacant allotment is ready for your new coastal home. Plans have been designed for the property that will help you visualise what is possible and are available to purchase if appealing. The contour of the allotment is very user friendly and with the houses already established on either side, there will be no surprises. There are excellent bush walking and mountain bike riding available through the National Park and of course the magnificent Fairhaven beach and surf club are not far away. Buying land is excellent if you wish to stagger your investment by securing your position now and building on your time frames. The allotment has mains water, sewer and power available.
